Christmas Plans Announced for Village by Council

Yule Lights Will Go on Dec. 15; Program Is Planned for Children

Antioch's Christmas lights will go up some time between now and the middle of the month, so they will be ready to be turned on about Dec. 15, it was decided at a meeting of the village council Tuesday evening.

The annual Christmas program for the children will again be held, although the council did not announce the exact date. It will, however, be similar to last year's.

Dairy's Request Granted

A request from the Antioch Dairy for permission to hook up with the village water system was granted on condition that the dairy lay its own water main and meet all expenses.

At present the water system extends only as far as the Pickard property.

Since apparently no other property owners besides the dairy would receive benefit from the extension of the water main in that locality, and an assessment for that purpose was not feasible, permission to hook up with the village water supply was made contingent on the dairy's supplying its own pipe line from the present terminal on. It is estimated that this would involve the laying of about 1,000 feet of water main, which would have to be purchased under present day priority conditions, and would entail a cost of around $2,600.

WILLIAM EVANS, PIONEER TREVOR RESIDENT, DIES

William Evans of Trevor, 82, a pioneer Kenosha county resident, died Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Kenosha hospital.

Evans, who resided on a farm near Rock Lake, was born in England, coming to this country as a youth of 16 or 18. He spent the greater part of his life in Kenosha county.

He was active in the Salem Mutual Insurance company for many years, serving as its secretary and in other capacities.

He was also active in township affairs.

Surviving him are his wife, whose maiden name was Florence Bartlett, and who is a sister of Mrs. Charles Sibley of Antioch.

He is also survived by two daughters, Mrs. Earl Elfers of Trevor and Mrs. George Rohnow, Kenosha, and six grandchildren. Five children preceded him in death.

His brother John is a resident of Salem. A sister, Mrs. Anna Barter, lives in Kenosha, and another sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Boughton, is living in Florida.

Woodstock Youth Is Fourth in Family to Enter Armed Service

From the Woodstock Daily Sentinel

"We have so much mail on hand today, we hardly know where to start to catch up. However, we believe a feature today would be the reporting for duty next Friday of George Behler, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Behler of this city. George is going to specialize in radar, a type of radio work which is almost television. That's news in itself, but George has three other brothers in service. John Calvin is at Northwestern University in Evanston in naval school. Robert is different and is in the army at Camp Crowder. This is a communication camp. Another brother, Pershing, is at San Diego naval base. That's a new one on us, because we thought San Diego was for the Marines only. Anyway we give you the Behler brothers as today's highlights in our service column."

The Behler youths are nephews of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Gaston of Antioch and cousins of Harold Gaston, U. S. N., and Robert Gaston, U. S. N. They and Mrs. Behler are well known here. Robert and John Calvin have both been employed at the Antioch News in the past, and Robert is a graduate of Antioch Township High school.

EDITOR IS RECUPERATING AFTER OPERATION WED.

H. B. Gaston, editor of the Antioch News, who underwent a gall bladder operation at the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn., Wednesday morning, is reported to be doing well according to word received from Mrs. Gaston, who is in Rochester with him. It will be some time, however, before he will be able to resume his customary guidance of the News, although he may be able to return to his home in Antioch in about three weeks.

News Loses Fifth Employee to Defense And Armed Forces

Fred Berg Is Latest Staff Member Contributed to War Effort

Fred J. Berg, formerly of the Antioch News staff, who left last week to take up the duties of his new position with the Lake County Rationing board at Libertyville, was the fifth employee to be lost by the News to the armed forces or defense work.

Harold Gaston, pressman and all-around printer for the News for several years, enlisted in the U. S. Navy in January, and is now stationed at White Plains, N. Y.

Miss Olive Brosseau, assistant editor of the News for four years, has been engaged in defense work since early in April. She is now employed in the Naval Hospital disbursing office at Great Lakes Training station.

Howard Gaston, oldest son of the editor and plant superintendent for the past 10 years left in June to take a position with a construction company engaged in defense work.

Fourth to go was Robert Gaston, youngest son of the editor, who enlisted in the Naval Aviation service in September. He is now stationed at Glenview Air base.

Mr. Berg was employed by the News for several weeks as reporter and office man and was in charge of the Service Men's mailing list and the "News of the Boys in Service" column.

Berg, who three years ago earned his retirement as a Western Electric company employee, has been giving his time to civilian defense work in western Lake county. Since attending the state fire wardens' school at Jacksonville last summer, he has found his services as a fire and air warden instructor in demand throughout the county. Berg's methodical efficiency should prove a boon to the county rationing board.

Editor Undergoes Operation

To cap the climax, "the old man himself," as H. B. Gaston, editor and publisher of the News for years, jokingly referred to himself, became seriously ill last week.

True to newspaper tradition, he held out long enough to get the paper to press last week, before being taken to the Mayo clinic Friday morning by Mrs. Gaston and Dr. D. N. Deering, family friend and physician.

Word from Rochester that the editor underwent an operation Wednesday morning has been accompanied with the assurance that although weak, he is doing well.

Dr. Deering returned to Antioch Saturday evening.

Mrs. Gaston, who acted as society editor and was in charge of the general office work for the News plant, is remaining in Rochester. She and the editor make up the sixth and seventh persons at present missing from the staff.

In this emergency, the News is receiving generous co-operation from the public in getting out this week's issue, and many persons have made special efforts to bring in news on events of general interest that could not otherwise have been covered.

This week's issue is being put out by the remaining staff, including Miss Mabel Sayles, linotype operator; Jim Brook, foreman; Leonard Roblin, apprentice printer; Howard Gaston, who motored here from Sauk City, Wis., over the icy roads Monday evening; Miss Brosseau, who is assisting evenings after her regular working hours; Mrs. Nason E. Sibley, former partner and staff member, and the News' loyal corps of correspondents in nearby communities, Mrs. C. B. Hamlin of Lake Villa; Mrs. Herbert Sarbacher, Wilmet; Mrs. Byron Patrick, Salem; Mrs. J. G. Bonner of Millburn; Mrs. William D. Thompson of Hickory and Mrs. Jessie Allen of Trevor.

James Stearns, deputy state fire marshal, attended a coroner's inquest at McHenry on Monday to determine the cause of the fire in which the two Kohout children were fatally burned on Nov. 19. The jury returned a verdict of death from suffocation in a fire of unknown origin.

Mrs. D. N. Deering is entertaining her bridge club today (Thursday).

Firemen's Benefit Dance Is Success

Five Hundred Enjoy Party Held in Danish Hall

A kind deed done more or less "in the line of duty" by the Antioch firemen last summer brought an unexpected reward at the firemen's benefit dance last Wednesday evening in the Danish hall. O. W. Turner of Little Silver lake, made the department a gift of the $25 war bond which was awarded to him at the party, stating that he was turning it back in gratitude for the department's saving his home at the lake from destruction by fire last summer.

The Turner place caught fire following a severe electrical storm one afternoon. No one was at the home at the time, but the blaze was discovered by a Zion fireman who had been fishing at the lake and who, in company with a neighbor, did a modern "Paul Revere ride" into town via automobile to summon the firemen when it was discovered that the storm had disrupted telephone communication.

Five hundred enjoyed the dancing and entertainment features at the benefit party. Sandwiches and other refreshments were served during the evening.

Clete Vos was chairman of the general committee.

Auto Catches Fire

Saturday morning two trucks responded to a call from Hennessey's subdivision, between Petite and Fox lakes, to extinguish a fire in an automobile belonging to August Algren.

The interior of the cab was destroyed by the fire, which apparently was started by a short circuit in the wiring.

Attend County Meeting

Antioch fire department members who attended a meeting of the Lake County Firemen's association Monday evening, Nov. 23, included Clarence Shultis, Lew Van Patten, Einar Petersen, Laurel Van Patten, Edward Frazier, Frank Huber, James Stearns and C. E. Hennings.

The meeting was held at Round Lake, with the Round Lake and Fox Lake fire departments as co-hosts.

Announce New H. S. Teaching Staff Members

Evelyn Patterson and H. P. Cook Succeed Miss McDorman and Hack

Two new teachers have been added to the teaching staff of Antioch Township High school, T. R. Birkhead, principal, announces.

They include Miss Evelyn Patterson of Evanston, Ill., who succeeds Miss Margaret McDorman as teacher of Latin and English, and Horace P. Cook of Anderson, Ind., succeeding Lewis Hack as teacher of chemistry, biology and mathematics.

Miss Patterson taught at Arlington Hall school for girls at Arlington, Va., until the school property was turned over to the government for use as an army hospital. She has also been in the employ of Marshall Field and company at Evanston. She is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and has a Master's degree in philosophy.

Miss McDorman, who has taught here during the past two years, became the bride of C. R. Baateau, Texas, during the Thanksgiving holidays. Her husband is in the Navy and is now stationed on the Pacific coast, where she accompanied him.

In Radio Communication

Mr. Cook comes here highly recommended, having taught in secondary Earlheim college at Richmond, Ind., schools in Anderson, and also in Anderson college. He is a graduate of and has done graduate work leading up to a Master's degree at the University of Indiana, at Bloomington.

Since Mr. Hack left six weeks ago, he has been at St. Louis, Mo., receiving army training preparatory to becoming an instructor in radio communication. He will go to the University of Wisconsin's army school at Madison from St. Louis, for further training.

THE SHOTS THAT HELP

O.E.S. Installs New Officers In "White Ceremony"

Installation of Leaders for 1943 Is Held at H. S.; 200 Attend

A "White Installation" was held by Antioch Chapter No. 428, Order of Eastern Star, Friday evening in Antioch Township High School, with 200 persons attending. White gowns were worn by the women taking part in the ceremonial, and the setting was beautifully decorated with white chrysanthemums.

A pretty feature of the evening was the conducting of the "cross ceremony" by the Order of Rainbow Girls. Punch and cookies were served afterward.

Heading the roster of officers for 1943 were Mrs. Sophia Hennings, worthy matron, and Joseph Horton, worthy patron. Mrs. Margaret Gaston, associate matron-elect, was unable to be present, having accompanied her husband, H. B. Gaston, to the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn. Ralph Kinrade is the new associate patron, Mrs. Selma Trieger is secretary, and Mrs. Esther Wilton treasurer.

The other new officers are Mrs. Helen Chapman, conductress; Mrs. Helen Carlson, associate conductress; Mrs. Frieda Wertz, chaplain; Mrs. Ida Osmond, marshal; Mrs. Harriet Davis, organist; Mrs. Edith Elms, Adah; Mrs. Mabel Solomon, Ruth; Mrs. Myrtle Horton, Esther; Miss Gertrude Horton, Martha; Miss Lillian Musch, Electa; Mrs. Leona Petersen, warder; Mrs. Martha Hunter, sentinel; Mrs. Sine Laursen, flag bearer; Mrs. Elsie Ferry, instructress.

Recruits in Demand for New Red Cross Unit Here

Additional workers are needed for the Antioch Red Cross surgical dressing and bandage supply unit, according to Mrs. Ed. P. Vos, committee chairman.

While the Red Cross rooms in the Webb building will be open from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., women may work during whatever time they can spare from their other duties, whether it is an hour or the entire day.

The Red Cross headquarters will be open on Tuesdays also from 9 to 4, and on Tuesday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock. Experience in making bandages and dressings will not be necessary, it is stated by Mrs. Vos. Materials and instructions will be furnished at the Red Cross headquarters. Women assisting in the work are asked to bring a wash dress and head covering.

B. F. Naber, supervisor of Antioch township, returned to his home Sunday from St. Therese hospital, where he has been ill with pneumonia.

GASOLINE DEALERS SIGN UP WITH RATIONING BOARD

Antioch gasoline and fuel oil dealers went to Libertyville yesterday to register with the gas rationing board the capacity of their storage tanks and their inventory of stored petroleum products as of the first of the month.

They were given coupons representing the difference between their inventory and the capacity of their tanks, these coupons to be used in filling their tanks to capacity.

From now on they will have to receive coupons from purchasers for gasoline and other petroleum products, including kerosene. They in turn will have to turn in these coupons when they replenish their stocks.

Holders of A cards are entitled to a fraction less than four gallons per coupon; truck coupons are for five gallons.

Although gas rationing will probably be something of a hardship in this region, where automobiles and trucks have been extensively used by the residents of farming and lakes communities, there have been relatively few complaints, gas station operators state. "The general feeling seems to be the hope that the gas rationing will help to bring the present conflict to an earlier end, coupled with the determination to make the best of the situation."

ENSIGN C. E. ISGRIG, ATT'Y GREENBLATT ADDRESS MEETING

Second Civilian Defense Program Will Be Held in January

Braving icy roads, drifts and cold weather, to get here, Ensign C. E. Isgrig of Great Lakes, Attorney Seymour A. Greenblatt of Waukegan and County Civilian Defense Co-ordinator Paul King took part in the Civilian Defense program in Antioch High School auditorium last evening.

Roman B. Vos, chief air raid warden for Lake county, introduced King, who in turn presented the speakers.

Ensign Isgrig, speaking on "Civilian Morale," said, in part, "The civilians are playing an important part in this war. You are the ones who make it possible for those of us who are in uniform, to be in uniform."

Greenblatt, of the Lake County Civilian Defense Speakers Bureau, gave a general talk on the principles of civilian defense.

Although weather conditions kept the attendance from being as large as had been expected, both speakers were heard with intense interest, and the hope was expressed that at some time in the future it might be possible to have them speak here again.

The next civilian defense meeting will be held some time in January, Vos announces. The definite date will be announced later.

Gas Rationing Raises Winter Sports Problem

Trains Will Be Probable Solution for Visiting Enthusiasts

With a "white Christmas" foreshadowed, and a fair fall of snow an actuality, there has been some question as to whether the growing program of winter sports fostered in the lakes region during the past few years will be adversely affected by gas rationing.

Ski slides and toboggan slides at Wilmet and Antioch and abundant skating, sledding and sleighing facilities throughout the lakes area draw many sports lovers to the lakes area.

While many drove here by automobile, some came by Soo Line train to Antioch, Trevor, Lake Villa or Grayslake, and others by electric lines to Libertyville and Fox Lake.

Hence, it is believed that many sports enthusiasts will follow their last year's custom of coming out by train for the day or the week-end again this year. Others may also avail themselves of motor coach transportation between Waukegan and Antioch.

While winter sports programs may not be so ambitious as in the past, when horse racing on the ice, and ice carnivals and pageants were among the features, it is nevertheless believed that much wholesome outdoor recreation will be enjoyed by winter visitors to the lakes.

Cold Spell Hits Antioch Area, Lake Shore Towns

Bitter winds and drifting snow accompanied winter's first really cold spell, which brought temperatures varying from 4 to 13 or 14 degrees below zero to Antioch and the lake shore region yesterday.

Great Lakes was among the points reporting the coldest temperatures. Places where there was some shelter from the gale that swept from the northwest down the great inland valley that extends up toward Madison reported somewhat "warmer" temperatures.

Garages were kept busy sending out tow trucks for cars that had frozen radiators, weak batteries, or were stalled in drifts.

Today brought considerable relief, with rising temperatures and abating winds.

Kidnaped Waukegan Baby Is Discovered in Zion

Baby Gary Botsford, three and one-half months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Botsford, Waukegan, was discovered last Wednesday afternoon in Zion, where he had been taken by Mrs. Anna Tyrrell Lussier.

Mrs. Lussier stated that she had not intended to kidnap the child, but had picked him up when she saw him crying in his buggy outside the store where he had been left while his mother went inside to make a purchase. She later became panic-stricken when a crowd began to gather, and was afraid to bring the child back, she said.

Navy Opens New Training Station

$50,000,000 Structure Will House 30,000 Recruits; Move 1,000 a Day.

SAMPSON, N. Y.—The navy formally has taken over administration of a new sprawling $50,000,000 training station where 30,000 recruits will be drilled by officers fresh from Uncle Sam's fighting fleets.

The latter is "very satisfactory" to Capt. H. A. Badt, USN, commandant of the war-born community that sprang into existence far from salt water in less than six months.

"Fighting officers," he observed, "make fighting men."

Construction of the station, so vast that immediate comprehension of its size is difficult, began May 28, but not until July did operations shift into high gear.

15,500 on Payroll.

Since that time an army of 15,500 laborers, involving a weekly $1,200,000 payroll, has worked day and night in answer to the navy's demand for speed—and more speed. The results are well-nigh incredible.

On ground used only for agricultural purposes since the coming of the first white men, great drill halls, barracks and more than 350 subsidiary buildings look down on beautiful Seneca lake—deepest and longest of New York's Finger lakes.

The six drill halls—each 603 feet long and 120 feet wide—emphasize Sampson's purpose in training men in the deadly art of war. Resembling the inverted hulls of ocean-going liners, each hall contains 62 laminated wooden arches, each with an over-all length of 151 feet.

More than 41,000,000 board feet of lumber are contained in the construction; 53 miles of paved roads wind throughout the 2,500-acre reservation; a 24-mile water line, drawing 5,000,000 gallons daily from the lake, curls underground. Sewer lines total 30 miles.

Will Move 1,000 a Day.

Badt does not discuss detailed training the recruits will receive beyond that "they will learn the elementary fundamentals of a sailor's life at sea."

The training period of eight weeks will stress conditioning and hardening of the men. "And," warns the captain, "the course will be so comprehensive that few will have the liberty of leaving the station for even as little as a few hours."

When Sampson reaches peak efficiency—probably around December 1—30,000 men will be in barracks. Every day 1,000 men will be discharged for new duties, and an equal number of fresh recruits will report for their initial taste of naval life in wartime.

The first of the new sailors to arrive can see plenty of water in blue Seneca lake, but some may be disappointed.

Not until spring will the station's training fleet of 150 navy whaleboats and at least 10 motor sailers be placed in service.

Troops and CWACS Save And Adopt Collie Puppy

LONDON, ONT.—Cries of pain coming from a collie pup in the street beside Wolseley barracks brought out a rescue detachment from the garrison. They discovered that the dog had been run over by a car and that a front leg was broken.

So the soldiers and the "CWACS" chipped in nickels, dimes and quarters, took the canine to a veterinary who charged less than his regular fee on behalf of the army's cause, and put the leg in a cast after carefully setting it.

Since then, Private "X" has become a familiar figure around the barracks. He hobbles around on three legs, but the vet says he will soon be running on all four.

Private "X" has won the hearts of everyone around the camp, from the CO on down. The soldiers and "CWACS" want to make him camp mascot but they are afraid that surely some one must own a dog as manfully and as kind as Private "X."

But if the owner doesn't appear to claim him soon, Private "X" is going to be drafted into the army.

Magistrate Takes Wheel And Cuts Cabbie's Fine

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—Police Magistrate William D. Conway had just fined Morris Richmond, a cab driver, $43.70 for speeding and running a stop light.

"But your honor," said Richmond, "that cab won't go over 32."

"We'll see," said the skeptical judge, and took the wheel of the cab. Its top speed was 35 miles an hour.

Richmond's fine was cut to $11.85 for running the stop light.

This Fish Story Evokes Not One Single Snicker

LAMAR, ARK.—S. B. Bryant of Lamar doesn't have to face scoffers when he tells this fish story:

While fishing near Perryville, Ark., Bryant hung a catfish, weighing three pounds, on a bank hook.

When he returned later he pulled in a 40-pound catfish that had swallowed the smaller one.

No one scoffs when Bryant tells his story—he's pastor of the Lamar Methodist church.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for December 6

THE MEANING OF CHURCH MEMBERSHIP

LESSON TEXT—Colossians 3:1-17.
GOLDEN TEXT—Now ye are the body of Christ, and members in particular.—I Corinthians 12:27.

Church membership means a great deal; a fact which has been obscured by the prevalent idea that joining the church is just like joining any other organization. We need to be reminded again and again that the local or denominational organization has real meaning only as it represents in the world a fellowship of true believers who, by the new birth, have become part of the living and true church, which is the body of which Christ is the Head.

It is likewise essential that believers know what their membership in the church means, so that they may fully appreciate it and properly present it to the world.

I. A New Life (vv. 1-3).
The church member is (or should be) a Christian, that is, one who has passed from death to life through the regenerating work of God in Christ (John 3:6, 7). Thus he has become "a new creature; old things have passed away; behold all things are become new" (II Cor. 5:17).

This new spiritual being has entirely changed interests and desires. The things of the world which he used to love have now become distasteful to him. The things of the Spirit which used to seem strange and not understandable to him (I Cor. 2:14) now become the center of his life. Being risen with Christ in newness of life he seeks those things which are above.

II. A Changed Life (vv. 4-13).
Setting one's heart upon things above means that the life will be changed. There will be a putting off of the things of earth and a putting on of the new man, in practice as well as in creed.

Although the Christian is a new creature in Christ, he bears with him until he dies (or Jesus comes) the old nature, which tries to hold him down, to draw him back to the worldly and fleshly things from which he was saved.

But the Christian is to "make no provision for the flesh, to fulfill the lusts thereof" (Rom. 13:14). He is rather to "reckon" himself "to be dead indeed unto sin, but alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord."

This calls for an act of his will (and a repeated or continuous act) by which he puts away the sinful things mentioned in verses 5:9. One might sum them up in two groups: (1) sexual immorality and immorality (v. 5), and (2) wicked words and attitudes (vv. 3, 9). The early church had no corner on such sins. They may exist in fellowship now. They ought not to do so, for the church member should show the new life of the soul by a changed life before his fellowmen.

III. A Gracious Life (vv. 14-17).
Too often, following Christ—and church membership has not seemed attractive to the unbeliever, nor has it recommended the grace of God, because it has been a sad, unpleasant, negative thing which God never intended it to be.

To the average non-Christian (rightly or wrongly), the matter of being a Christian seems to be a rather drab affair of denying one's self the interesting and pleasant things of life. Those who feel that way have never seen the real thing, for if they had, they would sense (even though they could not understand it) that there was the fulfillment of all that is best in life.

The purpose and plan of God for man is that he should be in fellowship with Him, and thus to be set free from the limitations and the disappointments of human life apart from God. The normal life of the Christian is one of love, peace, joy, fellowship, praise and thankfulness. Let us make it just that in this world of hatred, war, sorrow, division, weeping and ingratitude.

This portion of Scripture merits a closer examination. Note first that love (agape) is the key to it in v. 14) is the bond which unites these Christian graces into a whole which is harmonious and well-balanced.

Naturally, the peace of Christ will be the ruling factor in such a life, controlling the heart, the seat of man's emotions and affections. Such a life is cultivated and developed by the indwelling of God's Word and (note it) "richly." The weakness of many a church is found right here—there is so little teaching and receiving of the Word into the heart.

Christian faith expresses itself in song. "Thou hast put gladness in my heart" (Ps. 47), and that means a song. How true it is that hymns and songs teach and admonish us.

The life of the Christian church member is always conditioned by one perfect controlling influence—the will of God. He does all things, even the supposedly little or secular things, in the name of the Lord Jesus, with a constant thankfulness which goes up like a sweet incense to the Father through Christ.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
"Ancient and Modern Negroes," by Anna A. Johnson and Hyacinth, was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 29.

The Golden Text was, "Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong" (I Cor. 16:13).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Then was Jesus led up of the spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil. Then said Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan; for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people" (Matt. 4:1, 10, 23).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with a Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Sin and disease must be thought before they can be manifested. You must control evil thoughts in the first instance, or they will control you in the second. Evil thoughts, lusts and malicious purposes cannot go forth, like wandering pollen, from one human mind to another, finding unsuspected lodgment, if virtue and truth build a strong defense" (p. 234, 235).

THE PRICE WE PAY

The present world strife and social suffering is the price of our sin locally and nationally, as well as world-wide, the payment of which we have scarcely begun. No one can predict the limit of the financial cost for there is no human standard by which an adequate calculation may be made. If we add to the direct cost of prosecuting the war, the destruction of public and private property; the loss to art, science, and literature; and architecture; the loss of productive power on farms and in factories; the loss of manpower on the battlefield and through depletion of the race, as well as the maintenance of those made dependent upon state and private resources by reason of incapacitation in mind and body, including their weakened and unfit offspring; the cost will run into many thousands of billions and will tax human resources for a century to come. It has been estimated that, if

Southern Garden to be Setting for High School Variety Entertainment

"The Mint Julep Jamboree," a revue produced and staged by the students of Antioch Township High School, is to be presented at the school this evening at 8 o'clock with a cast of 28. The setting will be the garden of an old southern home, where the "Colonel" is entertaining his guests. When the expected troupe of professional dancers and musicians which the colonel has hired for the garden party fails to arrive, the guests rise to the occasion and each one does a song or dance to help the evening pass off pleasantly.

Finally the professionals arrive, and they, too, give their program. Features will include vocal and instrumental solos, quartet numbers, tap, ballet and acrobatic dancing, and an orchestra take-off on Paul Whiteman's "King Jesters."

WOMAN'S CLUB TO SEW FOR RED CROSS

The Antioch Woman's club will hold its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. John Horan to sew for the Red Cross on Monday, Dec. 7, at two o'clock.

Mrs. Houser of Waukegan, Wis., spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. Clara Wilton.

All the present material resources of the world could immediately be turned into cash and laid at the feet of the god of war as an advance payment for this war it would scarcely be a beginning.

The tragedy of it all is, it could have been avoided. We are told that, "to the present moment this war has cost the United States two hundred and fifty billion dollars." That is equal to two and a half billion a year for the past century, approximately four generations. If each of these four generations would have been willing to contribute its share of this to educating and christianizing the world this war and the first world war could never have been, and untold human suffering could have been avoided. But both we and they "would not," and now we must pay, and pay, and pay.

It is the God-given task of the Church to produce a race that shall be able to discern these far-reaching implications of human character, and shall be minded to employ every resource, human and divine, at their command to build a world in which the evil relations responsible for the present chaos shall not exist.

The Methodist Church at Antioch invites you to its service of worship next Sunday, and every Sunday, that together we may do our part of the great task to which God has called us. Warren C. Henslee, Minister

The Observer

It's not "Buck Benny Riding Again"—it's merely Jimmie writin' again, after an absence from the type-writer of nearly three years. And this time we are trying to fill a small portion of the shoe left open by the illness of our well liked editor and publisher, The last we had heard from him was that he was getting along fine.

Last winter this writer experienced his first real winter weather, when he ventured into territory boasting of 27 degrees below zero.

And Sunday Antiochians missed a rare sight indeed as we shoveled snow for the first time in our life, the reason we haven't before now is that generally about this time of year we were basking in the warm sun in the south where snow is only heard of and not seen. But we are enjoying this weather and are looking forward to joining the Polar Bear club the day we try ice skating.

Until last Sunday we thought we were the only one to get up early Sunday but as we passed through town on our way to breakfast we noticed that most of the merchants on the main street are also early risers and we, much as we hate to admit it, were one of the last to clean our sidewalk in front of the office.

According to a local service station operator, the kids are going to learn super salesmanship when they try to get the old man's car to court their flame, now that gas rationing is in effect. But then too, the old man's going to learn that the kids really know how to use their noodles when it comes to figuring out the transportation problem. And those girls who have been worrying about their diet and girlish figure can stop now. Really, walking keeps you in the pink of condition, and slightly rosy checked.

When Mr. and Mrs. Jacob B. Drom celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Tuesday of last week, they had the rare pleasure of having among the guests the attendants who "stood up" with them at the ceremony 50 years before. They are Mrs. Thomas Webb, then Miss Jessie Pullen, a sister of the bride, and W. E. Drom, brother of the bridegroom.

We've heard tell of a lot of poets waxing eloquent about the first snow-fall, etc., but we ain't never heard nobody get quite so all-fired eloquent on the subject as a truck driver who slid into a ditch the other a. m. Brother, you shoulda bin there—

'S funny, but last year at this time we weren't in the war yet, and this year it seems like we've been in it for 40 years.

Now we ain't worryin' so much about winning the war as about feeding the world when it's all over.

Life is just one (censored) thing after another, as the old lady said when her dog took after the burglar.

Heat Plan for Iceland Held Up

War Interrupts Project to Harness Numerous Hot Springs of Country.

REYKJAVIK, ICELAND. — Iceland's ambitious program to utilize one of its few natural resources—a project to harness its numerous hot springs to heat homes and business houses—is being delayed by the war.

In a warring world, with the belligerents hard put to find shipping space for war supplies—and needing raw materials to make implements of battle—neutral little Iceland simply hasn't been able to obtain the necessary iron pipes and machinery to complete this peaceful enterprise.

Iceland, geologically speaking, is a young country formed by a series of volcanic eruptions which piled hundreds of basaltic layers on top of each other. So the rugged, barren country has no deposits of coal, oil or gas. Its few trees are stunted in growth and are a slight source of fuel. Farmers in some districts produce peat and also burn sheep dung. But urban Iceland must import its fuel, as well as most of its building materials.

Hot All Year Round. Many homes, schools and hotels in rural areas, as well as the American army's largest hospital, already are heated by scalding hot water from near-by springs. The water in most of Iceland's hot springs remains at its unusually high temperature the year round irrespective of weather conditions.

Some of these springs are only a foot or two in diameter. In areas where they are found, the Icelandic housewife doesn't have to worry about fuel to cook the family dinner. She merely puts the food in a pan and lowers it into a hot spring.

The project to tap these springs to heat Reykjavik was launched about ten years ago when the city council purchased a large group of hot springs some ten miles away. Several years elapsed before the government was able to negotiate loans with Danish banks to finance the project. A Danish engineering firm was employed in 1937 and at last the work began. It progressed slowly, but now concrete conduits to house the iron piping have been constructed from the springs to the city and through some of its streets.

Delays in obtaining materials persisted after outbreak of the war. Eventually enough pipes and machinery to complete the job were purchased from Germany, Belgium and Denmark and assembled at Copenhagen. A ship carrying them was almost ready to sail for Reykjavik when Germany invaded Norway and Denmark in April of 1940.

Negotiations With Germany.

Prolonged negotiations between the Icelandic government and the belligerent nations began. The Germans, a Reykjavik representative of the Danish engineering firm said, finally agreed to release the materials but refused to permit ships operating in the Baltic sea to carry the goods. Efforts to get permission for Icelandic vessels to go through the blockade after them proved fruitless.

After the United States joined Great Britain in military occupation of the island, Iceland turned to America for help, and sent a government commission to purchase materials anew.

One shipment of materials has since arrived, but Iceland still does not have enough to complete the project. Because of the acute shipping problem and wartime priorities on materials, it is uncertain when any more will be forthcoming.

Meanwhile, Reykjavik, now a badly overcrowded city of 42,000 persons, will continue to heat its buildings with coal imported from England. Last winter this fuel cost local citizenry $22 a ton.

Older Men Are Gaining Positions in Industry

WASHINGTON.—Older men have been increasing in the ranks of industry as the war has progressed, but the census bureau finds that substantial relief from the manpower shortage cannot be obtained from the older male groups.

There were 17,800,000 men 45 years or older in the United States on April 1, 1940, and 13,700,000 of these were already in the labor force. This left 4,100,000 not in the force, of whom 1,500,000 were 45-64 years old, and 2,600,000 were 65 and over.

Of the 4,100,000 not in the labor force, 2,800,000 were reported unable to work or were in institutions.

This left a reservoir of only 1,300,000 older men, and about 700,000 of them were 65 years old and over.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Stoxen of Kenosha called on Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Stoxen Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Fletcher of Chicago spent the week-end with their mother, Mrs. Janet Fletcher.

2,500,000 Aided by Food-Stamp Scheme

Lack of Surplus Fails to Halt Jobless Relief.

WASHINGTON. — The government's food-stamp program no longer has any surplus stocks to distribute, but is still operating to supply the nutrition needs of almost 2,500,000 persons.

A surplus marketing administration official admitted that "we really have no surplus, unless it is a surplus of wheat," but said the stamp program is still "worth while."

"Increased emphasis is on curing want rather than disposal of surpluses," he said. Food production is higher than ever but the demands of lend-lease shipments and the armed services are creating shortages in many items.

One official pointed out there were still some 2,800,000 unemployed persons, and they are faced with that same rise in the cost of living that affects every one else. The orange and blue stamps enable them to maintain a reasonably healthful diet, he said.

During August, $7,269,000 in blue stamps were issued to 2,474,000 persons, compared with $9,800,000 in stamps to 3,700,000 persons a year ago.

Another benefit, the official said, is the relieving of regional food surpluses, caused chiefly by lack of transportation to markets. The government buys crops which pile up and distributes them through the stamp program or as direct relief.

The marketing administration's appropriation for this year was $150,000,000, a cut of $30,000,000 from last year. Much of the money, however, is issued in direct relief and in food for the school lunch program, which serves some 6,000,000 children daily.

Professor Points Out That Yards Have Zoos

NEW ORLEANS.—The average urban dweller has an "odditorium" in his back yard and doesn't know it, according to Dr. Francis H. Wilson, associated professor at Tulane university.

For instance, according to Dr. Wilson, the average backyard is a zoo with:

1. Grasshoppers that "hear with their legs."
2. The grub worm, which crawls on its back.
3. The flat worm, whose head can be divided into five pieces.
4. The chameleon, which changes color.
5. The iridescent beetle.
6. And the mosquito hawk—"one of the insect pursuit jobs."

Goes to Beauty Parlor; Her Car Repaired Free

ALBANY, N. Y.—It paid Mrs. Gertrude McHarg to visit the beauty parlor. Here's what happened: She parked her automobile and went inside. Later, she found the vehicle gone.

Investigation showed that an automobile repair shop had towed away the car. Mechanics had completed $15 worth of repairs—including new points and an overhauling of the ignition system.

It seems that a customer with a similar model had telephoned the garage for the service. The tow-car had picked up the wrong machine.

Wearer of Phi Beta Kappa Key Starts in at Bottom

OKLAHOMA CITY.—Holder of a master's degree and with a Phi Beta Kappa key on his watch chain, Melvin H. Black, assistant supervisor of education at the El Reno federal reformatory, walked into a navy recruiting office.

To a suggestion he apply for a commission, Black, 46, replied: "No, thanks. I'm a social service man at heart, and I want to go in as an apprentice seaman and find out what the man at the bottom of the ladder is doing."

The navy dusted off the bottom rung.

Costs Uncle Sam $15,000 To Train Navy Aviator

AUSTIN, TEXAS.—Texas athletic coaches who attended a U. S. navy physical fitness school here got a dollars-and-cents valuation of proper training.

It costs the government $15,000 to train a navy aviator, Lieut. Wesley Brown explained. If a flier is forced down in enemy territory or away from immediate rescue, his physical fitness probably will determine whether he returns to fight again.

Fliers who get back to their squadron thus save considerable expense and time of the armed forces.

Breaks Dishes, but Over Spouse's Head

MILWAUKEE. — Mrs. John Slaski is as good a patriot as anyone, but when her husband began breaking the Japanese-made dishes in their home she summoned the police.

"Her husband was breaking them over her head," the investigating officer explained in municipal court.

THE SHUT-IN LADY'S CHRISTMAS TREE

It made me sad, O Yuletide tree, When they brought you in for me to see

And stood you there in all your grace, To brighten the room by the fire place.

I thought of the years that it took you to grow, How you often were covered with ice and snow,

And when summer days were long and fair You nestled the birds with loving care.

I thought of the strength that God gave to you, And wished that I might share that, too.

Was it because your branches were always Lifted to Him in eternal praise?

Did you sing with the birds their songs by day? And sing with the wind their dances gay?

And when night would gather day's hours bright Were you joyous and happy in the moon's soft light?

If I could I would bury you 'neath the ground, Return you to earth, where you had found

The nourishment that fed you those long years through, And told you the secret by which you grew,

There you might lie for a thousand years, Away from the world with its joys and tears,

And await the time when once again, You returned to warm the hearths of men.

But you will return to the earth as ash, Be thrown in the street as so much trash;

But the law of nature will once more sound, And you in turn will enrich the ground,

And roses in all their gorgeous array Of colors, will bloom again in May.

Because of the strength you gave to them They will bring joy to the hearts of men.

And so then we, O Yuletide tree, May live and die, so the world may be A lovelier place because we were here,

That we may be held in memory dear. And now I thank you for all of the beauty

And lessons you taught me of life and duty, And hope for the courage I saw in you, And pray God's love for men anew.

Power of Russ Offensives Peril Nazi Armies From Moscow Line to Caucasus; Axis Stakes Africa Defense on Bizerte; Germans Seize French Port of Toulon

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

FRENCH FLEET: Toulon Occupied

When Adolf Hitler tore up the German-French armistice and marched into unoccupied France back in early November, his armies by-passed the port of Toulon where the French fleet was known to be based. Such generosity lasted but two short weeks and then came the Nazi order to demobilize the army and navy of Vichy France in what was termed a move to counteract the gains of the United Nations in North Africa.

This meant that Toulon was being seized by the Germans and with it, the French fleet. Such action was taken, said the Nazis, because of "breaches of honor" on the part of French officials.

A Berlin announcement telling of the occupation of Toulon admitted that "part of the French fleet has scuttled itself." It was also admitted that the French forces in that area had "resisted" for a few hours before the city fell to the combined German-Italian armies.

SOUTH PACIFIC: 'Jap by Jap'

It was "Jap by Jap" as the American forces pushed slowly forward around Buna and Gona in New Guinea.

Even as the end appeared near for the enemy it was learned that he had been successful in landing fresh reinforcements.

Discovery that these new troops had been landed came when identification of enemy dead showed marine insignia different from that found on previous Jap casualties. These new uniforms and the excellent physical condition of the troops confirmed recent landings of strong reinforcements. Special markings on the uniforms indicated that these landing forces of shock troops had evidently been sent to relieve the hard-pressed Japs being pushed steadily backward by sustained Allied drives.

For almost two weeks Jap naval forces had been prowling off the New Guinea shore trying to get land forces on to the island. U. S. fliers were able to sink four destroyers and a light cruiser while this action was going on. Then under the cover of darkness and with adverse weather prevailing the Jap troops were finally landed.

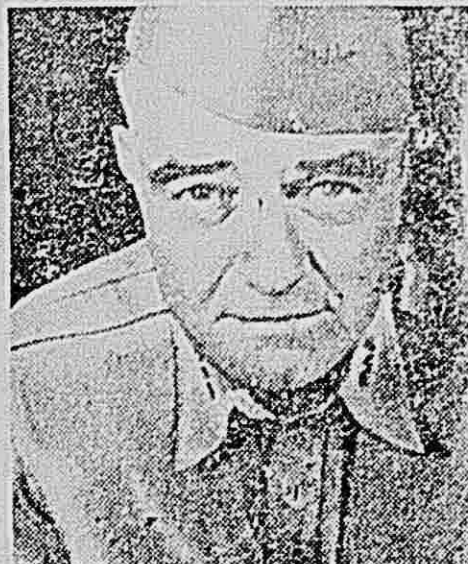

While this made conditions more difficult for the Allied forces trying to drive the Japs off the island, there was no letup in the fierceness of the attack. From General MacArthur's headquarters came reports that the U. S.-Australian advance had been counted in yards and even feet as the inner defense circle of the enemy was pierced.

Meanwhile on Guadalcanal, U. S. troops continued to advance slowly east and west of Henderson airfield.

HAISEY: 'One of Five'

With record-breaking swiftness the senate confirmed President Roosevelt's action in promoting Vice Admiral William F. Halsey, leader of the victorious American fleet in the Solomon Islands sea battle, to the rank of full admiral.

Thus thoughtfully, dogged Halsey became the fifth U. S. naval officer to carry the title of admiral. The others now serving are Adm. Ernest J. King, commander of the United States fleet; Chester W. Nimitz, head of the Pacific fleet; Royal E. Ingersoll, Atlantic fleet commander, and Harold R. Stark, commander of American naval forces in Europe.

ADM. WILLIAM F. HALSEY JR.
... Victory paid dividends.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

ROME: Mobilization of workers from many parts of Italy for repair and reconstruction work in Genoa, Turin, Milan and other northern cities "devastated by attacks of enemy aviation" was reported under way here by Fascist leaders. This report was coupled with recent official statements urging city dwellers to move to rural areas unless needed in war work.

RUSSIAN FRONT: Reds Turn Table

Adolf Hitler's costliest venture of 1942 reaped frustration, as the Russian army mammoth new offensive brought relief to Stalingrad and threatened disaster to the Nazi's entire expedition beyond the Don river.

Gathering steamroller momentum on a 200-mile front the new Russian drive pierced deep into the Don-bounded area, slashing the flanks of the German wedge converging on Stalingrad, cutting the two railroads supplying the Nazi forces, and capturing dozens of towns and cities. One early Moscow communique reported that more than 100,000 German troops had been killed or captured in the first phases of the offensive.

That Marshal Timoshenko's strategy had been well planned was indicated by the effectiveness of the pincer movements it thrust out north and south of Stalingrad and south-east toward Rostov. This provided a trap for Nazi divisions between the Red spearheads and Stalingrad.

That the Soviet offensive was even more far-flung than Moscow at first reported was indicated by German high command communiques revealing that the Russian army had struck 600 miles to the north of Stalingrad, on the Rzhev front, west of Moscow. This meant danger to the Nazi winter lines in the area bordering Latvia, and the necessity of spreading German manpower thinner by bringing more forces into action at widely scattered points.

MARSHAL TIMOSHENKO

Favorable as the outlook was, however, military experts cautioned temperance in analyzing the reports. Germany, they pointed out, still occupied vast strategic and industrial areas of European Russia. The Nazis had encountered fierce Soviet resistance last winter and still had emerged to start this year's offensives. The Russians were on the move, but a tough campaign was ahead.

NORTH AFRICA: Axis Last Stand

It was clear that Adolf Hitler meant to make the Allies pay a good price for possession of the last key Axis strongholds in North Africa. For he had concentrated air power and manpower in Bizerte, the "Gibraltar" of Tunisia and was using the short, overnight shuttle route between Sicily and the African mainland to reinforce his garrisons there.

Despite the vigilance of American and British air and sea power it had been possible for Hitler to move convoys across the narrow straits under cover of darkness.

The American and British forces demonstrated their will and capacity to get the job done by the steady encirclement of the Axis-held ports of Tunis and Bizerte, despite the first downpours of the North African rainy season.

Air warfare was on the increase with the Axis getting the worst of it. British and American planes harassed the defenders of Bizerte with bombing attacks. Allied bombers raided the Gela airport in Sicily and attacked Axis shipping. Meanwhile RAF detachments swooped down on Tripoli, supply port for Rommel's Afrika Korps.

Four hundred miles east of Tripoli, the British eighth army had mustered men, tanks, guns and planes for its showdown battle with the battered legions of Marshal Rommel in the El Aghella defile.

LONDON: British salvage experts have the job narrowed down to so fine an art, that cans of powdered household milk now have their contents stamped on the tin instead of a paper wrapper; bus tickets are 1-5000th of an inch thinner than in prewar days; and government typists by closer spacing and other economies now save 5,000 tons of paper every year.

LABOR PEACE: Dove Hovers Near

PHILIP MURRAY
... Unity means strength

Post-war as well as the current emergency unity between American labor factions was urged by the presidents of the American Federation of Labor and the CIO in speeches from the same platform before a war relief meeting which attracted representatives of both unions.

Pointing out that if labor factions could unite together in war relief work they could likewise carry unity into their dealings with each other, President William Green of the AFL sounded the keynote for long-awaited peace negotiations between the unions.

Philip Murray, CIO president, declared: "I have no desire to be an obstructionist. I never was and I never will be." Organized labor "in all countries was the first group to realize that Hitler was a threat to civilization," Murray added.

DAKAR: Ripe Harvest

Like a ripe plum, Dakar and the vast French colony of West Africa fell into the hands of the United Nations. While this action had been expected since the collaboration of Admiral Jean Darlan with the Allies, it was nevertheless welcome for not a single drop of blood was shed in its acquisition.

For 2½ years Dakar had been a gun pointed at the Western hemisphere, with the ever-present threat of Axis fingers on the trigger. Now that threat was removed. But this was not all the good news for at least 15 French warships and 50,000 French troops came under Allied control.

Despite feeble protests from Marshal Petain in Vichy, Admiral Darlan proclaimed his command of the area, under Allied supervision.

Searching their atlases, Americans learned that French West Africa is the largest unit of the French empire, embracing 1,815,763 square miles and a population of 17,000,000. Dakar is one of the world's strategic ports, with facilities sufficient to accommodate a large part of the Allied fleet.

POST-WAR PLANS: 'Good-Neighborliness'

First steps toward a worldwide postwar program to put nations now under the Axis yoke back on their feet and able to produce as well as consume were taken with the appointment by President Roosevelt of Gov. Herbert H. Lehmann of New York as director of foreign relief and rehabilitation.

Sources close to the administration indicated that the program envisions an extension of the "Good Neighbor" policy to the rest of the world not only by this country, but by the rest of the United Nations. Specifically they intimated that future economic solidarity could best be promoted by raising the standard of living and wealth of poorer and smaller nations without hurting the economy of the larger and richer countries.

The United States cannot debate its own economy to build other nations, official spokesmen pointed out, but it can assist them in improving their own conditions. Such improvement would benefit this country as well as the rest of the world.

OIL: Second Pipeline?

Authority to construct a second new oil pipe line from Southwest oil fields to the New York-Philadelphia area, providing 200,000 barrels daily to the Eastern Seaboard has been requested by the Petroleum Administration, Harold L. Ickes, oil coordinator, revealed.

Construction of the new pipe line would take from 9 to 12 months if authority and priorities were granted, Mr. Ickes told a house of representatives subcommittee. The new project would supplement a line already being built from Longview, Texas, to Norris, Ill., and from thence to New Jersey.

TREASON: Trail's End

The end of the treason road came for six German-born Chicago citizens when three men were sentenced to death and their wives to 25 years in the federal penitentiary for aiding Herbert Hans Haupt, executed Nazi saboteur who was one of the band of eight conspirators landed by submarine in this country last June.

The six sentenced were Hans Max Haupt, Erna Haupt, Walter Otto Froehling and Lucille Froehling, Otto Wergin and Kate Wergin.

"Remember Lady, Uncle Sam's Rationing Me Too!"

"Ya' see M'am, we dealers are only given so much of any rationed commodity. Before we can get more, we have to surrender the ration coupons you customers turn in to us.

It's called the flow-back system. Storekeepers turn in their coupons to wholesalers—wholesalers have to surrender their coupons to the manufacturers—it's a complete chain all the way back.

"In that way Uncle Sam safeguards for each one of us—the dealer as well as the customer—of an equal share of scarce commodities.

"That's why rationing in America is fair to everybody. It treats all of us—rich and poor—alike. Personally, I'm for it.

Ya' see, I'm pretty proud of the part we dealers are playing in America's war effort. In a way it's sort'a up to us to act as the government's representative in putting this rationing program across.

"In doing this, we're protecting you. We're serving the best interests of the entire community—and the nation. That's mighty important, now that our country—yours and mine, lady—is fighting the toughest war in its history.

Right now, none of us can do too much. Co-operation with rationing—cooperation with your dealer—is mighty small compared to the contribution of our boys who are doing the fighting—and dying—on the battlefronts—for you and me."

Miss Grace Carey's car was hit by a car driven by William Colcord of Johnsburg, at the intersection of 120 and Riverside drive, on Thursday night. Both cars were badly damaged although no one was hurt.

Mrs. W. Cole returned to her home here Sunday, after spending several days visiting her son, Dr. Bliven Rice, at Beloit.

Despite the bad weather on Monday evening, a large attendance of members was reported at the regular meeting of the Wilmot Volunteer Fire department.

Janey

Janey closed the bedroom door and locked it. Alone at last! She threw back her head and heaved a deep sigh. Then she peered out of the corner of her eye at the mirror to see whether she really did look like Hedy LaMarr. Quite a lot, she decided.

And now to business. She drew forth from the bottom of her top bureau drawer the sheet of pink writing-paper and the envelope that she had been saving for this day. She sat down at the table by the window and dipped the pen into the bottle of green ink that her sister Rose was such a pig about.

She wrote, with beautiful arabesques, "Dear Mr. Morgenthau," and held her head back to admire this effort of the best pupil in penmanship class.

"Here are my stamps for a bond. $18.75. I started last Christmas when I got $3.00. Not counting 50 cents, I have earned all the rest, working one or more days a week at a local grocery store, and I'm quite proud to say I worked hard to get it."

Janey stared out of the window at Peterson's house and beyond at the big yard where the kids were playing football. She held her pen elegantly in air.

"Sitting here looking out the window, I see a peaceful little town, and I wonder how the world can be in such a turmoil and the people of this world can have such hate for their fellow men. So I'm proud to send these stamps because I know I'm helping to make the whole world peaceful again like our little town."

She signed her name with an important flourish, not forgetting a conspicuous "Miss" in front of the "Janey." After she had sealed the letter she went on staring out of the window. It really was awfully peaceful. Overhead she heard a plane go humming by through the sunny afternoon air.

Then the voice of her best friend, Betty, called from outside—"Janey!" In an instant Janey was on her feet and tearing downstairs and out. She was not Hedy LaMarr nor a deep philosopher any more, but exactly twelve years old.

Grown-ups and children alike should all help the "breadwinner" of the family to budget for War Bonds. Let's all join a payroll savings plan and "top that 10% by New Year's."

LAKE VILLA SCHOOL NEWS

Our music teacher came Tuesday to our school to begin work on our Christmas play. The play is called "Why the Chimes Rang." The people who have speaking parts are: Kathleen Gindich, Barbara Tiede, Susie Weber, Betty Jane Ring, and Clifford Bartlett.

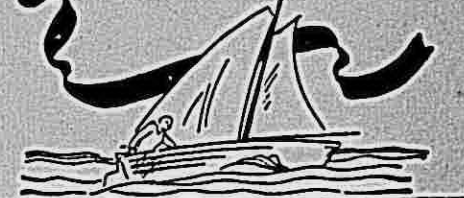

Claudette Brownlee did not come to school Tuesday because of a very sore throat.

Donald Davis was also absent from school today.

Tuesday the tardy list hit the all time high. Around sixteen of the students arrived late. After this anyone arriving late will make up double time after school. Most people believe this will be the cure for any of those tardy-goers who till this time usually went unpunished.

A new milk system will probably be adopted in our school whereby white milk can be gotten for one cent a bottle. However, this is still in the talking stages.

War Production and Electric Power in Northern Illinois

Out of the night the blaze of illumination over humming war plants dramatically tells the story of electric light and power in America's supreme war effort.

Electricity turns the hours of darkness into hours of production... it processes steel, aluminum and other materials that go into our great war machines... it drives lathes, drills and stamping machines... it propels huge conveyors and assembly lines.

Yes, electric power is the force of industrial activity. It speeds production of the tanks, ships and planes that will bring victory on the land, on the sea and in the air.

*Military authorities, the Office of Civilian Defense, and the plants themselves have spent many months in developing special techniques for controlling such areas during blackout.

News of the Boys in Service

From Greenville, So. Carolina, come greetings from Pvt. Ervin Rus, formerly of Petite Lake—"Just a few lines to let you know that I want to thank you a great deal for sending me the Antioch News. As you know, my Dad is sheriff at the 'Queen of the West.'"

Pvt. Otto Palaske writes from Harlingen, Texas, where he is stationed with the 4th Training Squadron, H. A. G. S.—

"I'm writing regardless of the fact that you might have my new address by now because you see I appreciate the weekly news so much that I want to make sure it reaches me."

"We got here Thanksgiving morning from Jefferson Barracks and Monday morning we start our courses as cadet aerial gunners."

"Oh, yes, I had a very interesting experience coming down on the train. We were in a small convoy on a civilian train—the Sunshine Special, to be specific. Anyhow between St. Louis and Palestine, Texas I met 3 people whom I knew and who were going to or through Texas. The first was Mrs. Webb who was on her way to Mexico. I had a fine chat with her."

"The other two were Dean A. N. Annas and his wife from DeKalb, Ill., who were going to see their son graduate as a flying cadet."

"The weather here is very warm and we are only 20 miles from the Mexican border, right on the gulf coast. It is very beautiful around here and the people are all so fine."

"Of course we're all 'grounded' for class work for the first few weeks but during our fourth week here—if we have made good thus far we take our first gunner's flight."

"I sure hope I make it as I really like it a lot."

"Thanks again for your interest in the boys in service and I'll look forward to my next copy."

"I received my first copy of the Antioch News yesterday, and I was very glad to do so," writes Clifford E. Schonscheck, (3608346) 394th school squadron, Keeler Field, Miss.

"Reading about things that take place at home is very comforting and interesting, for it's an answer to some of the questions one would like to ask. Thanks ever so much for sending the Antioch News, as I surely appreciate it."

"P. S. This is the first winter I have 'vacationed' in the South, although I am in the Air Corps."

Among the boys "somewhere overseas" is Corporal Peter Albert Jecovic, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Jecovic, highway 173. His address is No. 3634305 Company A, 825th Eng. Bn., Aviation APO 517, New York, N. Y.

Staff Sgt. George W. Lehmann writes—

"I have been receiving the Antioch News regularly, and appreciate it very much. Recently I have been promoted to Staff Sergeant and am now with a new battalion; therefore my future address will be 479 C. A. Bn. AA. Batt. 'C', Camp Davis, North Carolina."

Bernard Osmond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Osmond, will complete his basic training in six weeks. He left here Nov. 16th, for Quantico, Va.

Pvt. Edward C. Dunford, Embury Riddle School of Aviation, Miami, Florida, 11-43-A, writes that he is receiving the Antioch News regularly and that he appreciates it very much. He especially enjoys news of A. T. H. S. He adds:

"While I was stationed at Miami Beach I had the pleasure of a visit from Lieut. Milton Weiss, former assistant coach at Antioch High School. Lieut. Weiss asked many times about how everything was going back in Antioch. Also he was very glad to hear that the 'Fighting Sequoias' had captured the football championship of the northern conference."

"In closing, allow me to thank you once again for making it possible for me to receive the 'Best, Biggest Little Paper in the country.'"

Sergt. Orville Hawkins, M. P., son of Eugene Hawkins, Jr., arrived last Thursday from Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., for a nine day furlough. He is the guest of Clarence Kufalk. Orville will be stationed at Los Angeles, Calif.

He Wants to Know

To settle a wager will you please let me know who is having your paper sent to Pvt. Robert Danekus, 806th Chemical Co., Hunterfield, Savannah, Georgia?

Pvt. C. Smisek, 806th Cml. Co. A. O., Hunterfield A. A. B., Savannah, Ga.

Editor's Note: The sending of the Antioch News to young men of this region who are in the country's service is part of the Antioch News' contribution to the war effort. The Antioch post of the American Legion has generously assisted in defraying some of the expense, thus helping to make the project possible.

Increased Christmas Seal Purchases are Forecast

"Freely ye have received, freely give."

That is the spirit Lake county is manifesting toward the annual Christmas Seal Sale which started last week, sponsored by the Lake County Tuberculosis association. Mrs. Barney Trieger of Antioch is a member of the association's board of directors.

Increased pay and an upswing in employment have prompted many people to double their contributions to carrying on the fight against tuberculosis, according to Miss Orpha L. White, executive secretary of the association. She expects this year's Seal Sale to bring in $20,000 to carry on the expanded program in Lake county. Last year the little stamps of health brought in $16,000.

President Roosevelt, in endorsing the 36th annual Seal Sale, points out the need to continue the intensive campaign to keep tuberculosis under control in the United States during the war years. The President said:

"The unholy alliance between war and disease is particularly powerful in the case of tuberculosis. It has increased in every past war and is increasing alarmingly in many warring European and Asiatic countries."

"In the United States tuberculosis is at the lowest rate in our history. But, to hold the disease in check during wartime will demand the greatest effort possible on the part of the people, the medical profession, the tuberculosis associations and the official health departments. Cooperation of all people in the fight against tuberculosis is imperative."

"The tuberculosis associations are well under way in their intensified and expanded wartime campaign. I have full confidence that the American people will aid the purchase of Christmas Seals, the main support of the National Tuberculosis association and its 1,700 affiliated organizations to their many other wartime activities."

Mrs. Austin H. Niblack of Lake Forest, chairman of this year's Seal Sale in Lake county, points out six salient facts regarding tuberculosis:

1. Tuberculosis is caused by a germ—the tubercle bacillus.
2. Tuberculosis is not inherited.
3. Tuberculosis often exists without the presence of symptoms.
4. Tuberculosis is no respecter of persons.
5. Tuberculosis is curable.
6. Tuberculosis is preventable.

Dr. E. H. Smith of Libertyville is chairman of the Lake County association. Other officers are: vice president, Dr. Theodore Proxmire of Lake Forest; secretary, Mrs. Gerard Fossland of Winthrop Harbor; treasurer, State's Attorney Harry A. Hall of Waukegan.

A Real Doughboy

Just a few lines to thank you for the Antioch News. It sure is good to get a newspaper from home. It makes the rounds here, as all the boys like to read it. There is one boy here from Burlington, Wis., and he likes to read it just as much as I do, as he knows most of the residents of Antioch. He is a former truck driver for Torhorst, who lived in Antioch before he moved to Burlington. His name is Charles Polige. All I can say is I like it in the army and some day we are going to be bakers in the army. We baked our first bread Friday and it turned out pretty good, considering we are mostly new men and have only been in the army for two months.

The Versatile Soybean

Soybean oil meal has been found of high value as an ingredient in livestock feed, to take the place of tankage, meat scraps and fish meal, of which there is a shortage, according to feed specialists.

Soya flour, made of soybeans, is being widely used in dehydrated soups, sausage and other foods for the armed forces, according to soybean research authorities.

Government agricultural specialists warn that soybeans stored on the farm for more than a few days should not contain more than 14% moisture.

Although animal protein is desirable in poultry feeds, it is not essential, and from 30 to 40 per cent of the total ration can be soybean oil meal, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

More than 60 million pounds of soy flour and grits have been sent to America's allies this year, for use in foods for school lunches, according to the Agricultural Marketing Administration.

Ice cream and milk substitutes are now being made out of soya flour, which is manufactured from soybeans.

The use of protein concentrates to make a correctly balanced laying ration, can increase egg production by as much as 100 per cent, nutrition authorities have discovered.

If the entire potential energy in one gallon of gasoline could be exerted at one time, the force generated would be capable of propelling a 2 1/2 ton vehicle 200 miles at 30 miles an hour, according to word received by the Chicago Motor club.

An automobile uses 10,000 gallons of fuel for each gallon of fuel, according to the Chicago Motor club, which advises motorists to keep their car air cleaners in perfect operating condition.

Vegetable oil has been substituted for the mineral oil previously used in diesel engines in experiments being conducted in the United Kingdom, according to word reaching the Chicago Motor club. The experiments have produced promising results and have shown that engines run smoothly with a light loss of power after they are equipped with devices to heat and filter the vegetable oils.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

An Army motor trailer looks much like any other automobile trailer which may be seen on the highways or in the tourist's camps. The Army's trailers are used as traveling hospitals, dental clinics and testing laboratories.

These mobile surgical or dental units are hauled to their destination and the trucks released for other purposes. They cost from $1,200 to $3,000 and weigh from 1 1/2 to 8 1/2 tons. You can help pay for them... help keep our Army fit. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every payday. You can join the Ten Percent Club through the Payroll Savings Plan, or buy Bonds regularly through the nearest bank or postoffice.

Arrangements have been completed with all the countries concerned to start construction work immediately on the new overland route to Panama Canal, according to a bulletin from the Chicago Motor club. The highway between this country and the Canal will join existing Mexican railways to provide a coordinated motor vehicle and rail transportation service.
